

LIMITED RUN — One production run. One unique opportunity to be part of it.

This game is offered as part of our Azao Games – Limited Run concept: a different way of bringing games to life, based directly on player orders.

A goal we reach together

The principle is simple: the game will only be produced once the minimum number of orders required for production has been reached.

Every order moves the counter forward and brings us one step closer to launching production.

So your order does more than simply reserve a game: it directly helps make this edition possible.

Goal reached? Production is guaranteed!

As soon as the minimum order target is reached, production of the game is officially confirmed.

We will then keep orders open for a few additional weeks before starting production, giving last-minute players one final opportunity to join the adventure and secure their copy.

A final closing date will be announced. After that date, it will no longer be possible to order this edition.

What if the target isn't reached?

There is no risk for you.

If, after a period of 3 months, the minimum number of orders required to start production has not been reached, the Limited Run will be cancelled.

All contributors will then receive a full refund.

The rule is simple:

Target reached → the game goes into production.

Target not reached after 3 months → you receive a full refund.

Production limited to orders

After the additional period for last-minute orders, ordering will officially close and we will launch production.

The Limited Run concept is based on producing only the number of copies that have been ordered. This edition is therefore not intended to remain permanently available in stock.

How does it work?

1. You order the game

Your order is registered and moves the counter closer to the target.

2. The counter progresses

You can follow the Limited Run's progress towards its goal.

3. The target is reached

It's official: the game will be produced!

4. One last chance for latecomers

Orders remain open for a few more weeks.

5. Orders officially close

The final number of copies to be produced is confirmed.

6. We produce your game

Azao Games launches production of this edition.

7. Your copy is shipped

Once production is complete, your order is prepared and shipped to you.

Love this game? Become part of its story.

With Azao Games Limited Run, it's the players who make it possible for an edition to come to life.

One production run. One unique opportunity to be part of it.